

The graphs shown in figure show the behaviour of magnetization and energy as a function of temperature. The exact temperature value (2.27, for  $J/K_b = 1$ ) agrees with the plots shown. The statistical error becomes bigger in the neighborhood of the critical temperature due to the steepness of the functions in that region.